"Pressestimmen 'The Delta is My Home,' is presented in way children will take pleasure in reading. They will be enthralled with the photographs and in the end they will learn a great deal about the culture, family and life of Tom

McLeod and the Gwich'in people.'-- 'ForeWord Magazine' 'These are positive portraits of northern family life and of child life, cheerful and appealing as well as educational.'--'The Toronto Star' 'Replete with sharp and attractive full-color photographs. . . These titles provide some useful information for reports and are interesting additions for general reading.'--' School Library Journal'..'a valuable introduction to an endangered culture.'-- 'Booklist' 'Tom's bouncingly fun personality beams from every page. . . This is an exciting series for helping children, especially those outside the Northwest Territories, appreciate the day-to-day world of their peers.'-- 'Canadian Children's Book News' ('The Delta is My Home') feature a satisfying mix of old and new - traditional and contemporary - in the photographs and text. . . What both photos and text do very well is establish the strong connection between the people in the books and the land upon which they live. . . A book that children (will) choose to read both for pleasure and for information. Recommended'-- 'CM Magazine' 'The Delta is My Home, is presented in way children will take pleasure in reading. She is a teacher at heart although no longer in the classroom. She first came north to Rankin Inlet, Nunavut in 1987 and most recently taught in Kugluktuk, Nunavut from 1996 to 2000. Mindy stopped being a classroom teacher when she had her son Jack. To remain home as much as possible, she started her own home-based business, writing educational materials. Tessa Macintosh has lived and worked north of 60 for over two decades and has been the official photographer for the government of the Northwest Territories for over 10 years. As one of the few professional photographers in the north, Tessa Macintosh has developed a varied repertoire of photographic skills."
