"Recensione Praise for Jenny Valentine: Valentine has the essential storyteller's gift of making you want to read on ? and to know more even after the book is finished.? Guardian?The award-winning Valentine has a keen eye for the idiosyncrasies of young children, and the rhythms of family life.? The Bookseller?[Valentine] has a wonderful ability to take readers right into the hearts and souls of her central characters, and reading her is always a truly vicarious experience.? The BookbagPraise for The Double Life of Cassiel Roadnight: Trust and treachery blend into a suspenseful, satisfying story about the choices that we make.? The Times?I had high hopes of this one [and] I wasn't disappointed. As a thriller, it works wonderfully well.? The Bookbag"A contemporary thriller so brilliantly written that for two hours I almost forgot to breathe." Amanda Craig, The Times?A compulsive thriller.? Guardian"An enthralling variation of the 'Who am I' theme." Irish Times L'autore Jenny Valentine is an award-winning writer for Young Adults. Her first novel, Finding Violet Park, won the Guardian prize in 2007 and since then she has written six more, including Broken Soup and Fire Colour One, as well as Iggy and Me, a series for younger children. Her work has been published in nineteen countries and Hello Now, her latest YA novel, will be published in the UK and US in March 2020. In 2017 she was the Hay Festival International Fellow, spending the year meeting and learning from teenagers all over the world. She works to empower and give a voice to young people. She lives all over the place and has two daughters."
