"Reseña del editor Case Studies in Immunology, Seventh Edition is intended for medical students and undergraduate and graduate students in immunology. It presents major topics of immunology through a selection of clinical cases that reinforce and extend the basic science. Each case history is preceded by essential scientific facts about the immunological mechanisms of that specific disorder. The cases themselves demonstrate how immunological problems are deconstructed in the clinic and each one is followed by a concise summary of the clinical finding and questions which can serve as discussion points. The book includes a total of 55 cases and can be used as either a standalone text, review aid, or as a companion to Janeway's Immunobiology, Ninth Edition and The Immune System, Fourth Edition. Biografía del autor Raif S. Geha, MD, is the James L. Gamble Professor of Pediatrics at the Harvard Medical School and chief of the Division of Immunology, Allergy, and Rheumatology at Boston Children's Hospital. He combines clinical practice with research on immunodeficiency in patient and transgenic mice, and investigation of the pathogenesis of atopic dermatitis. Luigi D. Notarangelo, MD, is chief of the Laboratory of Clinical Immunology and Microbiology at the National Institute of Allergy and Infectious Diseases, National Institute of Health. He is a leader in the study of the molecular and cellular mechanisms of human primary immune deficiencies and in the treatment of these disorders. He has served as president of the European Society for Immunology and of the Clinical Immunology Society."
