"Reseña del editor Obra que aporta una descripción actualizada de las principales patologías consideradas patrimonio de la medicina tropical. Presenta un abordaje sistematizado de las principales infecciones tropicales integrando cuestiones sociales, económicas y de prevención. Analiza temas relacionados con la epidemiología, la prevalencia, descripción de agentes y vectores implicados en estas patologías, modos de transmisión, tratamientos y prevención, entre otros. Herramienta de consulta para el médico general y también para el especialista de enfermedades infecciosas e internista; igualmente es una obra de gran utilidad para el estudiante avanzado de Medicina y el médico en formación. Cada una de las patologías se presenta con un abordaje perfectamente estructurado y de una manera sencilla que favorece la consulta. El autor principal de este título es el Dr. Antonio Montero, Director Científico del Centro de Medicina Tropical de la Facultad de Ciencias Médicas de la Universidad Nacional de Rosario y también investigador del Consejo Nacional de Investigaciones Científicas y Técnicas de Argentina (CONICET)."
